

Away by LAURIA – Lyrics

I don't wanna talk about the past
If I'd go back, I'd get lost inside it
You deserve to know, but cannot ask
Cause if I tried, I'd find more pain hiding
Oh I wish I could take it all back
But I've gone too far
Didn't know what I wanted
Now I live with doubts and sleep with lies
I'd rather lie than cry about it

And I wonder
If you care still
It shouldn't matter
But it always will
I still remember
How it was so sweet
Can seem to measure
When we'll heal

I wish I could tell you that I
Never meant you pain
I wish I could hold you like I
Use to everyday
I wish I could hold on to the
Promises I made
I wish I could
Instead, I'm running away

I know that I gave up way too fast
But here's the fact
I got tired of waiting
All the promises fell through the cracks
You had me believing
There's so much that I wish I could take back
Could we rewind baby?
Ignore the pain baby?
What if we lost what was meant to help us find some peace?
There I go, loosing sleep over what should've been

And I wonder
If you care still
It shouldn't matter
But it always will
I still remember
How it was so sweet
Can seem to measure
When we'll heal

I wish I could tell you that I
Never meant you pain
I wish I could hold you like I
Use to everyday
I wish I could hold on to the
Promises I made
I wish I could
Instead, I'm running away

Runnin' x4

Running away

Instead, I'm running away
